

Help is available...

If this self-test has given you insight about the harmfulness of gambling in your life, get help. A gambling addiction can wreak havoc on your life and the lives of your loved ones, but the addiction is treatable.

The CCGNJ owns and operates the 1-800-GAMBLER® HelpLine. If you, or someone you know has a gambling problem, call our 24 hour-helpline or visit our website, www.800gambler.org

When you call our 24-hour helpline you will get immediate assistance. You will be given information and meeting locations for Gamblers Anonymous (GA), a self-help, 12-step recovery program or if you are a friend or family member of the gambler you will be given a referral to Gam-Anon. If desired, you will also be given the name of an approved treatment provider in your area. Studies have recently shown that GA and professional treatment combined are more effective than either one alone. See a list of CCGNJ's approved treatment providers in this brochure.

All State-Funded Treatment Agencies listed in this brochure have a Certified Compulsive Gambling Counselor (CCGC) on staff.
